Section 3c: Composting groups

All circles, projects and working groups may dissolve over time. It may be that some functions those groups were fulfilling will be taken up by other groups, or may be transformed into something new.

We encourage groups to communicate to the general circle when this starts to happen, in order that:

- an assessment as to how this change is going to impact other still-active groups can be made
- the CoLab will be able to update our external communications to reflect this
- learnings can be captured, and
- support is provided if needed.
